LOCAL.
TRAIN on time
RAIN fell on Friday last. Only a little however.
A SON of W. Brunelle of South Edmonton, died this morning.
CAPT. WORMLEY arrived from Peace River Crossing and Lesser Slave lake on Thursday.
L. P. MACDONALD, a member of the Peace River party of prospectors of '97, left for home on Saturday's train.
MESSRS. Legendre and John, traders, arrived from Lesser Slave lake on Thursday, by way of the Landing.
THE sale of the stock and effects of the late James Stamp realized $1,236, net $800 as reported in last issue of the BULLETIN.
A LETTER from Capt. Segers was recently received by Miss Segers. At the date of writing Capt. Segers was at Circle City in charge of a river steamer which had been frozen in there. Times were brisk in the Yukon and he did not regret the change from Edmonton. He remarked that a day in the Yukon meant as much as a month at Edmonton.
THE Massey-Harris Co. will deliver their winter's sales of farm machinery on Feb. 1st. They have arranged to make it an event in the history of the district. Some 300 orders are to be delivered, and the purchasers are being invited to a grand dinner in two of the hotels, one not having sufficient accommodation.
J. RICHMOND, who is engaged in shipping farm produce to points along the C.P.R. line is getting together two cars of dressed beef, hogs, frozen fish, cured meats and butter for shipment to points along that line. He recently returned from the sale of a cow block at Fernie. He was held up by a snow blockade for some days.
FREE PRIZES: Four hundred farmers attended a meeting held in the opera house at Ada, Minn., on Saturday last. The meeting was called by Mr. Davis, state agent of the Dominion government, and was held in the interests of Canadian emigration. Mr. C. W. Spence, of Winnipeg, addressed the meeting. Great interest was manifested, and a large number of those present will come to Western Canada, intending to settle in the Edmonton district.

F. W. BROWN and Geo. Tate are on the way in from Lesser Slave lake by the Swan hills trail.

REV. D. G. McQUEEN returned on Friday's train from attending an ordination service at Red Deer.

H. B. Co's Mackenzie river mail arrived from the north on Saturday. The mail left Chipewyan on Jan. 3rd.

MISS M. ROBERTSON, sister-in-law of Jas. McDonald, is suffering from a paralytic stroke which occurred on Saturday.

GEORGE CRANSHAW, who was assistant in the telegraph office here some time ago, died in Macleod on Friday last of typhoid.

A YOUNG tame beaver was brought in from Whitehorse lake to day by an Indian. It was caught when very young and is quite tame.

MR. AND MRS. A. P. TONELLI arrived from Peace river on Saturday. They went out last summer with a prospecting party from Chicago.

G. DESJARDIS and J. B. Rivet, traders, arrived from Lesser Slave lake on Saturday, and a half day on Alex. Macdonald is also on the way in by the Landing trail.

THE first meeting of the shareholders of the Farmers Milling Co. of Fort Saskatchewan was held on Saturday and organization was completed. $18,000 stock has been subscribed already.

THERE are 600 letters and 250 pounds of newspapers in Edmonton post office, directed to parties at Lesser Slave lake, Peace River Crossing, St. John, and Graham. No arrangements exist for forwarding them.

H. SIGLER has bought out the interest of this late partner, A. Cristall, in the general store business hitherto carried on here under the firm name of Sigler & Cristall. Mr. Sigler will continue the business in the building at present occupied.

A MEETING of ratemakers of Clover Bar statute labor district was held in Clover Bar school house on Thursday evening last. It was decided to appropriate $150 of the district's funds towards improving the grades at Fulton's and Oliver's creeks and Dowler's grade to the river.

THE Clara Mathes Comedians will arrive on to-night's train and will play a five night's engagement in Robertson hall.

THIS company is highly spoken of where ever they have appeared. The play to night will be "The Black Flag," and to-morrow night will be presented the laughable comedy "Peck's Bad Boy."

MESSRS. Deslites and Morin, French-Canadian immigration delegates from Providence, Rhode Island, went south on Saturday's train on the way to British Columbia, which they will visit before returning. They are delighted with the Edmonton district and well satisfied with the opportunities it offers to settlers.

T. P. ROSE and E. P. Spaulding arrived from Chicago on Friday's train on their way to Finlay river. Mr. Rose is a member of the Dr. Potts prospecting party who were prospecting on the upper waters of the Peace last season. They have contracted with McCall and Segers to put their outfit on the Finlay river before snow goes, and will leave Edmonton about Feb. 1st. They will take about twelve men, and expect to go about the 15th of the month.

A. H. Griffin returned from Mackenzie river on Saturday, accompanying the H. B. Co. mail. In company with Frazier of the Fresno party, Short, and Ernest George he had gone up Root river, a tributary of the Mackenzie, and across the divide to the head waters of a river flowing westerly upon which they found gold prospects. George and he returned to the Mackenzie last fall leaving Frazier and Short at the mining camp.

IT has been brought to the attention of the BULLETIN that the rates over the Crow's Nest road are the same for hay as for grain and mill stuff, that is 55c per hundred to all points between Macleod and Nelson. This is $7.00 a ton, a most unequal rate when the comparative value per ton of hay, and any of the other commodities on the same line is considered. The C. P. R. would be doing themselves and its lots of good if they would just cut that hay rate to $5.00 a ton. By reducing the freight on wild hay it would be able to meet imported timothy on more equal terms.

THE administration of the act respecting contagious diseases of domestic animals has been placed in the hands of the mounted police by the department of agriculture. Settlers having reason to fear the existence of contagious diseases in any animal, should communicate at once with the mounted police officer commanding in the district, who will have the case examined and reported on by the police veterinary. This does not mean that the government veterinary will treat the animal, but that he will decide whether the disease is contagious or not and so give the farmer the opportunity to protect the rest of his herd if there is contagion.

IN December last a resident of Edmonton, who came from the United States last summer, decided to send as Christmas presents to his wife and family in the States some articles of fur. The list included cap and collar of gray Persian lamb for the children and a seal cap for his wife. A short time ago he received notice from the United States customs officials at the line that the articles of Persian lamb had been duly passed, and would be forwarded as ordered, but that the seal cap would neither be forwarded nor returned. This is in accordance with moderately recent legislation by the United States congress prohibiting the importation of dressed seal skin into the United States, the object being to deprive the London manufacturers of a large part of their market and so force them to take sides against the Canadian sealers.

BULLETIN Co. (LTD.)
EDMONTON BULLETIN, JAN. 23rd, 1899.

WHEAT GRADING.
In the last issue of the South Edmonton Plaindealer, R. Ritchie, manager of the Edmonton Milling Co., discusses the information regarding wheat grading recently supplied the BULLETIN by Geo. Imerson, of Stony Plain. Mr. Ritchie says the BULLETIN was in error in stating that Ladoga wheat is graded in South Edmonton as 3 hard or 1 northern. He says: "In no instance have I known Ladoga wheat graded 1 northern—1 northern being a much better grade than Ladoga. Buyers in South Edmonton are paying 47c for 1 northern and 37c for Ladoga."

Mr. Ritchie cannot understand how it is possible that Ladoga wheat can be graded No. 1 or No. 2 hard by the grain inspector at Fort William when the regulations under which he works provide that 2 hard must be composed of at least two thirds red fife. Mr. Ritchie says "Ladoga" could not be classed higher than No. 1 spring wheat, which throughout Manitoba is equal in value to 3 hard."

The above is valuable information, and Mr. Ritchie knows a great deal more about grain than the BULLETIN does. At the same time the fact remains that Imerson was offered by a South Edmonton buyer 35c as the best that could be given for his car of wheat on the day before he shipped it on the basis of calculation that it was Ladoga wheat. Whereas in the letter of advice of Thomson Sons & Co., the same wheat was graded as No. 2 hard, and they expressed themselves as willing to pay for it at a 2 hard price. The price offered in Edmonton proves that the wheat was graded as Ladoga here. The price offered at Fort William shows that it was graded as 2 hard there. This is one of the many cases in which money does all the talking that is necessary.

Possibly, as Mr. Ritchie says, the inspector at Fort William may not know his business, or may not be doing his duty; and possibly also, while the price of No. 1 wheat at Edmonton, thanks chiefly to Mr. Ritchie, has been kept above an export basis, that of the lower grades has been persistently and systematically hammered down below their export value, especially while the outside market was dull or uncertain.

While the BULLETIN is anxious to see the farmer get all there is in his wheat of whatever grade it may be, it hopes that nothing it has said or published will be taken as a suggestion that it will ever really pay the Edmonton farmer to raise anything but the very best wheat in the very best way.

RAILWAY SURVEY PARTY.

V. H. D. Dupont, C. E., and party arrived from Peace River on Saturday. The members of the party are A. T. Kerr, assistant; F. de C. Davis, G. Crendell, M. Mason, Allan Sutherland, Frank Hutchinson, H. J. Biggs, J. W. Lee, Fred Albert, J. Lacombe, F. Neilson. All who went out came back safe and sound and look well. This party left Edmonton on the 8th of July and reached the mouth of Finlay river on Sept. 8th. They were 28 days travelling from Edmonton to Hudson's Hope, at the foot of the Rocky Mountain portage, and seven days from the head of the portage to the Finlay. Their work was to make a preliminary exploration for a railway line through the Peace river pass and eastward from the mountains to the British Columbia boundary south of Peace River. In the work from the mouth of the Finlay to the head of the Rocky Mountain portage transport was by boat. A trial line was run on the south bank of the Peace for this distance, about 75 miles. Although this was through the Rocky mountains no very serious obstacles were met with. At some points, however, the mountains rise so abruptly from the water's edge that short tunnels would be necessary. Mount Selwyn, near the mouth of the Finlay, is the highest peak in that part of the range. It is about 6,000 feet above the sea and about 4,000 above the Peace River.

The horses of the party had been left at Hudson's Hope while the work from the Finlay to that point was being done. When the head or west end of the Rocky Mountain portage was reached (Hudson's Hope is at the east end) the horses were used for purposes of transport. In the attempt to carry a line on the south side past the portage great difficulties were met with in passing through the canon of the Peace. On one occasion Mr. Dupont nearly lost his life. Once the canon was passed there were no serious difficulties. The country along the south bank of the Peace is moderately level, and high above the river. Near the river it is deeply cut by gullies, but these do not extend very far back, except in the cases of Moberly river and South Pine river. These streams cannot be got around, on account of their length, and their valleys are several hundred feet deep. They can only be avoided by following close to the river bank along the low level until they are passed.

The weather has not been severe in Peace river this winter so far. There was only one week of very cold weather. In coming back the party were 48 days from Hudson's Hope to Edmonton. They were eleven days coming from Lesser Slave lake, brought by C. Anderson. Their horses are wintering at Spirit river.

Dibble's railway survey party which was to work westward from the mouth of the Finlay up the Omicron to the Stikine were camped at the mouth of the Omicron when last heard from awaiting the closing of the rivers so that they could travel on the ice.

FROM BLACK RIVER.

W. Miller, Fred Miller and V. Brewster arrived from Black River, B. C., on Thursday, by way of Lesser Slave lake and the Landing. They were members of the M. M. party who left here in March last. Several members of the party are wintering at the head of the Black branch of the Black river, and will hunt and prospect from there over to the West branch of the river. They will go down the Black river to the Liard in the spring. The Messrs. Miller and Brewster returned because a cache which they had made had been robbed of 800 pounds of provisions, which would leave the party short for the next season's operations. As soon as this loss was discovered the Messrs. Miller and Brewster started for home, on October 19th.

They came down the To-chee-ka, Finlay and Peace by boat to the head of Rocky Mountain portage amongst floating ice. From the portage to St. John they dragged their camp outfit and supplies on toboggans. From St. John they got a lift with Rev. Mr. Robertson to the Crossing, and came in with Legrandeur and John from Lesser Slave lake. They are from Minneapolis and are going home for the winter.

The M. M. (Maine and Minnesota) party of which these men were members left Edmonton in March last. At Peace River Crossing they decided to take their supplies up the Peace by boat driving their horses overland. The Peace was high at that time and their trip to the Rocky Mountain portage was very slow and laborious. From the portage they sent their horses across the mountains to Graham and up the Finlay to the divide between the Finlay and Black river. They tracked their supplies up the Peace, Finlay and To-chee-ka. They give the distance above Graham to Deserter's canon, 30 miles; to mouth of To-chee-ka, 70 miles; to Pike lake at head of To-chee-ka, 50 miles; to lake at head of East branch of Black river, 40 miles. Total from Fort Graham to Black river, 190 miles. The Finlay is not particularly difficult navigation until Deserter's canon is reached. There most of the boats were portaged for three-quarters of a mile. But the M. M. party tracked two large scows through. (In coming down they ran the canon.) Above the canon the Finlay was not very bad to the Forks. But the To-chee-ka was small, shallow and rapid. It heads in a chain of marshy lakes. From these lakes to the head of Black river the supplies had to be packed on horses. The party had to make five trips to get their supplies across, and it was during their absence on these trips that their cache was robbed.

The divide between the To-chee-ka and the Black is almost imperceptible. Both streams are in the same valley, with a mountain range on each side. But the Black flows north to the Liard and the To-chee-ka south to the Peace. Austin, who formerly mined on the Saskatchewan was with this party at Black river. He prospected a few miles down the stream but found nothing. He also prospected for quartz, but found that the rock was principally schist, and barren.

The Montana party, the M. M. party, the Jones party and the Braithwaite party are all wintering on the head of Black river, and will proceed by boat in the spring. There are eighteen or twenty men in all.

The Messrs. Miller confirm the report of Dan McKee having taken $55 out of a bar on the Finlay above the Forks in three days, and having gone on to Sylvester.

They had seen no one who had gone over the trail to Sylvester except the returning guides of the Moody party. None who had got well down Black river had come back.

The pack trail from the To-chee-ka to the Black river was very fair. Chiefly dry, rising ground covered with jack pine, but the feed had been destroyed by bush fires, so that horses could not live there this winter.

A number of miners at St. John had made very good pay on Peace river last fall. Some having taken out up to $100.

At and around Graham fifty to seventy men were wintering, and at St. John from thirty to forty.

Jones' cattle at Graham and St. John were in good condition, and were being slaughtered for sale as beef. Price at St. John 12c a pound.

Retains Its Flavor

It is known to commerce that Indian Tea retains its strength and flavor while China, Japan and Ceylon "go off." Ram Lal's is a pure Indian Blend, and being put up in air tight packages, retains all its freshness. This accounts for its great strength and delicious flavor.

No other tea is so little affected by the Alkali water of Manitoba and the North West.

We will offer you inducements in the Furniture line that will make you want to let the old things slide and find new. That old Mattress on the boy's bed, full of bumps and holes, makes your boy crooked to be in. Our Fibre Mattresses are the most healthy and durable on the market to day. They are made in two pieces and are so easy to handle.

Now something new to put this Mattress on is a pretty white iron Bed. We have just received a large consignment of both black and white Beds in different designs. Come and see the bargains we have before buying.

OLD TIMERS' BALL.

The Old Timers' Ball on Thursday night last in Robertson Hall was a great success. Over 200 persons were present, the music was good, the decorations of the hall tasty and appropriate to the last degree, the supper good, the weather fine, and everybody seemed to be in the best of humor. The musicians were: W. Clark, piano; Mr. and Miss Patricia, accordion and violin; F. Beaver, W. Stiff, and L. Carneau, violins. The decorations were a great feature of the affair. On the stage was erected a log cabin, with snow shoes, bear traps, guns, etc., hanging outside. Inside it was a card room. The walls of the hall were hung with robes of musk ox, and bear, and furs of lynx, wolf, silver fox, etc. Heads of elk, buffalo, musk ox, and small deer also ornamented the walls. The programme included besides the waltz, two step, jerry, etc., a number of old fashioned square dances which used to be common in the west, but are now scarcely known. But whether they knew them or not, everyone seemed ready to try them and took all the fun in the world out of their attempts. Miss Patricia gave one of her dance specialties and met with much applause. The supper was all that could be desired, but the crowd was larger than had been calculated on. Taken altogether the Old Timers' ball was the event of the season.

All the committees connected with the entertainment deserve every credit for the way in which they performed their duties, but above all others special mention must be made of Mr. H. S. Young, who had full charge of the decorations. Mr. Young desires the thanks of the association to be conveyed to the following persons and firms who contributed furs, heads, pictures or other articles towards the decorations: McDougall & Secord, Ross Bros., A. H. Martin, Jas. Ross, R. G. Hardisty, Sigler & Cristall, Larue and Pircard, E. Haymer, T. G. Lauder, M. McCormack, A. Taylor, and W. S. Edmonson.

DREDGING IN R. C.

Dredging around Quenneville has not been as successful this season as was hoped for, the Pittsburgh dredger having failed to make any showing, their dredger being aground with no likelihood of getting off till the water rises in the spring.

The Olsson company, operating on the Quenneville, claim to have had a very successful season, and are arranging to put on two or three more dredgers for operation next season.

A large Bucyrus dredger will be put on the lower end of the Quenneville river, this being the same style of dredgers in successful operation on Grasshopper Creek, near Banff, Alberta.

A company will also install a dredger on the ground below the village of Quenneville, which leasehold takes in the celebrated Rick Bar.

On Big Bar on the Fraser, a dredger has been successfully operated by an English company, under the management of Mr. Gore, on Boston Bar on the Fraser the Beattie company have been successfully operating their dredger again this season.

It is reported that several more dredgers will be put on the Fraser next season.

ANGUS RIDGE.

Johnson Thirk is laid up with a severe attack of rheumatism. He is gradually improving. Ed. Wilson, from the Pacific coast, is visiting his brother, Mr. Wm. Wilson.

There is no Methodist service in the school house since Mr. Dean left.

Miss Angus, who taught in Mr. Rie's section last year, is now teaching in Lethbridge. At the annual meeting a week ago last Saturday, Mr. C. Shantz was elected trustee for the ensuing three years.

FROM DAWSON.

Rev. Father Ladue recently received the following letter from a Roman Catholic missionary at Dawson City.

The letter is dated Dec. 1st: "All our missionary brothers in the Klondike are well. But such is not the case with the poor miners entrusted to their care. Several times they have been visited by typhoid fever and scurvy, and they were not freed from those illnesses without the sacrifice of the lives of several. We have so far had 130 patients in the hospital, and have now 108. The winter threatens to be very severe. We have already seen 45 below zero, which temperature bears hardly on those not used to it. Notwithstanding what was published by the papers don't fear for the Klondikers. They will not starve this winter. Although they will not be free from many moral and physical trials."

WHITFORD.

Near town the roads were bare and the dust flying. Near Whitford or Egg lake the sleighing was moderately good. The public school re-opened on 29th Nov.

Sunday school re-opened also on Sunday, Jan. 15th. Mr. Latson, our preacher, was the recipient lately of two cash presents, one from his Manawan hearers and one from his Whitford hearers. He was much pleased by this exhibition of kindness and esteem.

It is expected that Manawan school will re-open for a summer term. J. C. Gillis, the telegraph operator, is expected back to Victoria soon. His friends will welcome his return.

Lastly, don't forget the well equipped stopping place kept by our enterprising neighbor John Borwick, situated on the trail just before you reach the lake on your way from town.
